TRAVEL

Travelling through Athens: There are 5-6 flights daily from Athens to Chania (airport code CHQ) by the two national airlines:

- Aegean Air (www.aegeanair.com), which is a member of Star Alliance
- Olympic Air (www.olympicair.com)

There are more flights from Athens to Heraklion (the largest city on Crete) daily, yet the distance between the two cities is 150Km. We recommend that you fly directly to Chania.

Direct flights from Europe: During summer months, most likely till the end of September, there are many direct flights by charter companies from several cities in Europe. However, the frequency and time schedule of these flights may not match the time schedule of the workshop/meeting. Please, check the internet for these flights or with a local travel agency.

HOW TO GET TO THE CITY FROM THE AIRPORT

The airport is located around 20 Km from the city center (where the hotels are located). To transfer from the airport to the city center, it is most convenient to take a taxi. The cost is around EUR 25. Bus services are not frequent.
